

Hpv vaccine schedule pdf

I'm not robot!

Three HPV vaccines are now being marketed in many countries throughout the world - a bivalent, a quadrivalent, and a nonavalent vaccine. All three vaccines are highly efficacious in preventing infection with virus types 16 and 18, which are together responsible for approximately 70% of cervical cancer cases globally. The vaccines are also highly efficacious in preventing precancerous cervical lesions caused by these virus types. The quadrivalent vaccine is also highly efficacious in preventing anogenital warts, a common genital disease which is virtually always caused by infection with HPV types 6 and 11. The nonavalent provides additional protection against HPV types 31, 33, 45, 52 and 58. Data from clinical trials and initial post-marketing surveillance conducted in several continents show all three vaccines to be safe. The primary target group in most of the countries recommending HPV vaccination is young adolescent girls, aged 9-14. For all three vaccines, the vaccination schedule depends on the age of the vaccine recipient. Females
